President Johnson Picks up Reins of Office

Congress to Get Address On Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI)—President Johnson, briskly taking command in a long, hectic day of crisis, tonight scheduled a high-level conference tomorrow on the war in South Viet Nam with Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon, Defense Secy. Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, special presidential assistant on national security affairs, will attend the 3 p.m. EST meeting.

The White House also announced that Johnson will make a major policy speech before a joint session of Congress on Wednesday, after talks with yet unnamed foreign heads of state who will be in Washington Tuesday.

"If the California threat continues it might be something that might warrant extraordinary consideration," said Smylie.

He offered the bond-financing proposal for development of the Snake as a way to harness unused water without waiting on federal development. Once in use, it is projected from the Los Angeles proposal to divert 24 million acre feet a year.

Smylie, in an interview, detailed his proposal in detail.

Idaho Will Observe "Day of Mourning"

By The Associated Press

Idaho will observe an official day of "mourning and fast" Monday with government offices and schools closed all day and most businesses closed until noon for the funeral of President John F. Kennedy. Gov. Robert E. Smylie will fly to Washington Sunday to join the hosts of dignitaries at the services Monday. The Idaho national guard will fire a 21-gun salute to the dead President in Boise at 10 a.m. Monday, and flags throughout the state will remain at half mast.

Smylie not only proclaimed Monday a day of mourning, but proclaimed a 30-day period of mourning which began Friday and continues until sundown Dec. 22. Schools and government offices will reopen Tuesday however. Flags will remain at half-staff until the 30-day period ends.

Most schools announced they would be closed Monday, as recommended by Ross Burney, assistant superintendent of public instruction. He acted in the absence of D. F. Engelking, the superintendent, who is in Phoenix, Ariz.

The Very Rev. N. E. Walsh, diocesan director of parochial schools in Idaho, said all 26 Catholic elementary and three high schools will be closed Monday and children will take part in special services and masses in their parish churches. Kennedy was a Catholic.

Across the state many churches conducted special memorial services and more are planned Sunday.

Smylie, in his proclamation, ordered banks closed. He lacks authority to order closing of other businesses; but most merchants announced plans to close Monday morning. The Idaho Savings and Loan association said its members would close.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY On this afternoon's weather charts, pressure continues low in the Gulf of Alaska and a series of disturbances stretches from the Intermountain region across the eastern Pacific. One of these disturbances intensified during the night and has caused considerable precipitation over southern Idaho.

The precipitation began as snow and rain mixed over the western valleys and changed to rain as warm southerly winds raised the temperatures. The precipitaton has now spread on to the eastern Idaho border and is falling mostly in the form of snow east of Magic Valley. Moisture amounts have been rather generous and ranged mostly from one-tenth to one-third of an inch. Emmett measured the most this morning with .66 of an inch. Fairfield measured the most this morning for a total of six inches on the ground.

Precipitation was expected to fall intermittently Saturday night and be mostly in the form of rain over Magic Valley. Camas prairie can expect an additional one to three inches of snow.

Temperatures Saturday night were expected to remain on the mild side for the time of year, with minimums mostly in the 20s and lower 30s. With partial clearing Sunday night, sharp cooling in areas without snow cover.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY

WASHINGTON. Nov. 23—At the ripe age of 41, Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia is still a crazy, mixed-up kid with what the head-teasers call a strong death wish. He seems determined that his little country—about the size of Utah—should commit suicide in the arms of Communist China.

Sihanouk, a playboy-type who took the saxophone and wrote jazz music, sees Red China as the wave of the future and he wants in. "The communists will surely triumph in South Viet Nam in a few years," he says. "If we do not side with the communists in 1964 we will have to do so in 1965 or 1966. This is inevitable."

It would seem, therefore, that Sihanouk's threat to stop taking United States foreign aid money unless we behave is merely incidental to his long-range purpose. He has announced he will call in five experts from Peking to help "organize state control," and several weeks ago he declared that if Cambodia had to choose between Red China and the West "we would without hesitation choose . . . the people's republic of China." None of this sounds like a man interested in preserving his country's independence.

NOT OUR BABY—Sihanouk's gripe has some validity, but at the moment there doesn't seem to be much the U. S. can do about it. He has threatened to stop accepting American aid Jan. 1 unless Uncle Sam manages to stop clandestine broadcasts by his Cambodian opposition from Viet Nam and Thailand. But so far all the State Department has been able to do is to try to convince Sihanouk that the U. S. has no control over sovereign countries, even if they are living off us. Besides, the opposition Khmer Serei group is a tiny outfit with no popular support in Sihanouk's Cambodia.

The temptation to tell Sihanouk to get lost is strong here, but it would be an expensive luxury. Uncle Sam has pumped some $65 million dollars into Cambodia in the past nine years and this year is spending 29.2 million there. Naturally, we're still interested in getting some return for our dough.

But, after all, $65 million is only money when considered in the context of the cold war. What is important is that Cambodia is one of the strategic keys to Southeast Asia, bordering as it does on Laos, Viet Nam and Thailand. If the Chinese Reds get a foothold there the whole neighborhood will be in trouble—just as a time when the overthrow of the Diem regime in Viet Nam had seemed to pave the way for a new thrust against the communist Viet Cong in North Viet Nam.

NO FRIEND OF OURS—It is for this reason that some of our diplomats are hoping that Sihanouk's threat is a bluff mounted to force the Americans and French, as well as South Viet Nam and Thailand, to crack down on the Khmer Serei. Yet the guy has been courting Red China for several years now, and earlier this year he signed a friendship pact with Peking binding the two countries to support each other's foreign policies. Earlier, he had asked the big powers to guarantee the neutrality of Cambodia as they did for Laos, but the West turned this down because of its experience with the communist-leaning troika government in Laos.

Well, sir, this year I doff my plumed hat to your piety and right after Thanksgiving when the Christmas merchandise started appearing in earnest, I got out and shopped the same way, in earnest. I feel a little guilty about it now, but my Christmas shopping is all-out-of-the-way except for those little odds and ends that always manage to crop up at the last minute.

Next year let's start right after Independence day!

POT SHOTS—BUT IT'S DONE!

I've always been a sort of pinhead about this business of getting Thanksgiving out of the way before starting to think about Christmas. And so whenever I get around to starting my Christmas shopping, dangit, near swallowed has been picked over.

ADJUNCT TO ROCKIN'—The therapeutic properties of the rocking chair have been well publicized since President Kennedy began rocking in the White House to ease his aching back. However, Dr. Martz adds something to the prescription. To get the most out of rocking in the way of serenity, light muscular exercise and "peripheral circulation," he says, it should be combined with knitting or friendly conversation.

"Arthritis have found the age-old activities of rocking chair and needlework to be high on the list of therapeutic endeavors," the doctor wrote in the Journal of the Indiana State Medical Association.

We do not doubt this bit. But our President would look pretty silly sitting in his rocking chair knitting and purring, while contemplating the serious issues of the cold war. Mr. Khrushchev might consider a needworking President as an easy mark for his nefarious objectives. The Republicans will sweep the next election.

It's a grief everyone shares, but can't reduce, a grief accompanied by a sort of numbness induced by the unexpected suddenness of a crime beyond comprehension or explanation. May we suggest whittling as a substitute for knitting? A sharp penknife and a soft piece of wood have stimulated the contemplative process among our menfolk ever since the founding of the Republic. The picture of our President a-whittlin', while a-sittin' and a-rockin', would assure many Americans that the ship of state was on a steady course. Only an extremist would demand that he also aim a stream of baccy juice at a hot stove or a distant gavoon. —The Oregonian

Visitor to Smoke-Filled Room*World Tragedy

The whole world mourns a senseless tragedy in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It's an unbelievable, insane act without a vestige of justification. Regardless of what may be revealed eventually in the way of a killer's motive, assassination of the President will be impossible to justify.

First reaction to the stunning news was disbelief, followed by shock and grief as Americans everywhere gradually came to realize President Kennedy actually had been killed. As the grief erodes, it may be replaced by a sort of national fury at the human animal who has committed the awful crime.

First sympathy must be for the family of President Kennedy, for his widow and two small children who have been robbed of a father they probably will remember in later years only as a photograph on the mantle. But the loss is like the ripple from a stone-tossed into a pool, it keeps reaching ever outward.

The terrible, unreasoning crime has cut down an intelligent, articulate leader in the prime of his life. It has disrupted life in the United States and only history will be able to record the assassin's impact on the nation and the world. If any shots were ever heard around the world, then there can be no doubt that the rifle shots in Dallas, Tex., were heard around the globe.

President Kennedy did not see eye to eye with all American citizens. Everyone knows he has been soundly criticized for many of his views by those who hold opposite opinions. Yet the right to have such a difference of opinion and voice such thoughts is the mark of the democratic nation. No person in his right mind would ever consider assassinating the President of the United States merely because of a difference of political affiliation and philosophy.

No one, including Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has stepped forward to condone a senseless crime.

In fact, Premier Khrushchev has joined all other leaders of countries everywhere in condemning the cowardly, senseless assassination. National and international friends and foes alike unite in deplored an act of violence that has robbed the world of one of its great contemporary leaders.

Life and the nation's business will continue because they cannot stand still. On Monday, already decreed as a national day of mourning, Americans will pause to pay their respects to the 35th president of the United States, even as the 36th president goes about the duties of the toughest job on Earth.

After that, it won't be the same. A nation that had come to accept the Kennedy family as part of the nation's life will take time to adjust. Gone from the position of first family are President Kennedy and his wife, who has become known as a patron of the arts and a leader in her own right. Gone, also, are Caroline and little John-John whose antics have furnished welcome relief from the serious business of running the greatest nation on Earth.

In spite of criticism and some tongue-clicking, everyone had come to realize the occupants of the White House constituted a warm, devoted family group. Youngsters added a quality to the White House and first family that had been missing for too many years. If there was any doubt the nation had taken the Kennedy family to its heart, those doubts were dispelled when Mrs. Kennedy lost her baby some three months ago. In a way, everyone shared the loss, just as all Americans share Mrs. Kennedy's loss and grief now following the untimely death of the President.

It's a grief everyone shares, but can't reduce, a grief accompanied by a sort of numbness induced by the unexpected suddenness of a crime beyond comprehension or explanation. It's a grief that knows no limit and is not confined to any race, creed or political faith, a paralyzing grief that remains even with the start of a cold realization that it's not a bad dream that will go away after a while.

BOBBY BAKER, BIG OPERATOR—Robert G. Baker may have refrained sedulously from turning to personal profit the influence he built up to a fine pitch of perfection during the eight years he was secretary to the Senate Democratic majority as a protege of Vice President Johnson. But he will remain an embarrassment and a political liability to the vice president, to the Kennedy administration and to every Democratic senator until the facts are in which will explain what made Bobby run.

Mr. Baker parlayed a $10,000 salary, augmented by his wife's $11,700 a year as an employee of the Senate internal security subcommittee, into quite a remarkable way of life. He bought a $25,000 house in Washington in which his secretary and another young woman lived. He moved with his family into a $124,500 house sold by the Tennessee Gas Transmission company of Houston to his law partner under a deed of trust which was not recorded. He invested in a $1,200,000 hotel in Maryland.

Now he is being sued by a vending machine company on charges he conspired with an aerospace company to break a contract and install machines of a rival company in which he is alleged to own stock. His law partner says the rival company has food vending machines in California plants of North American Aviation, another company with government contracts which would make it vulnerable to political influence.

Four investigations into Mr. Baker's activities are under way, by the federal bureau of investigation, the internal revenue service, the Senate rules committee and by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware. But still little is known publicly, and it is difficult to talk appears widespread. The secret of Mr. Baker's success is still very much a secret.

The suspicions which have arisen as a natural consequence are damaging to public confidence. We trust the Senate Democratic majority, including Vice President Johnson, will be animated by a jealous concern for the standing of the Senate rather than by complacency. Mr. Baker may be a very small fish, but he has stirred up some extraordinary murky water.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

"You could have no better proof of his complete recovery," said one professor of medicine who for reasons of medical ethics spoke anonymously. He and other specialists deferred to Johnson's own physician, Dr. J. Willis Hurst, Emory University, Atlanta, who was en route from New York to Washington.

They could speak only of what medical science knows in general about recoveries from heart attacks. Each week, each month and each year the victim survives his personal disaster, his heart muscle is healing itself and ridging itself of scar tissue.

Some scar tissue always remains as a residue but it need not interfere with healthy heart function, they said.

Two Wreaths Placed on Tragic Site

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 23 (AP) — Two small wreaths lay in tragic display Saturday of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The wreaths were on a grassy slope a few feet from the spot where an assassin's bullet struck the President in the head.

A card on one spray said: "In memory of our beloved President John F. Kennedy. From the bereaved citizens of Dallas."

The other, signed by Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Stausser, said, "We are all so sorry."

Traffic moved slowly, bumper to bumper, by the site of the assassination.

Small knots of people stood around, taking pictures of the building where the assassin had waited. The sixth-floor window he fired from was still open.

The building was locked. A patrolman said FBI agents were inside.

Major Stock Markets Will Close Monday

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP) — The major stock markets of the United States will remain closed Monday as the nation mourns the slain President Kennedy.

The New York and American Stock exchanges announced today that there will be no trading in securities of any kind by any brokers through their facilities.

The Midwest Stock exchange at Chicago, the Pacific Coast exchange at San Francisco, the Boston Stock exchange and others followed suit.

The Toronto, Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges also will be closed.

The New Orleans cotton exchange said there would be no trading until further notice but as with other commodity markets, trading was expected to resume Tuesday.

The Chicago board of trade said there would be no trading until Tuesday.

Assassin May Have Aimed At Connally

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 23 (AP) — Gov. John B. Connally, painfully wounded by the assassin who killed President Kennedy, showed much improvement today.

The possibility arose that Connally may have been an equally deliberate target along with Kennedy.

The man charged with the assassination, Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, wrote Connally when Connally was secretary of the navy.

Oswald asked a reversal of his undesirable discharge from the marine corps.

Connally replied by noting that he had resigned as secretary of the navy and had no power to reverse the discharge.

Oswald had written Connally from Minsk in the Soviet Union.

Gerber Will

Head Drive Of UF Here

Harold Gerber, president of the United Fund drive, was appointed chairman and campaign director to work with J. P. O'Connor, co-chairman, at a meeting of the steering committee at noon Friday at Wray's cafe.

Gerber will replace H. L. Derrick, who resigned from the post Monday due to other work.

The steering committee noted that the organizational work of the campaign is in "full swing," and its success depends upon the citizens of the community.

The steering committee pointed out that only two section heads are needed to complete the roster of personnel working on the drive. Under the direction of Derrick, the campaign has been divided into two major divisions: advanced gifts and general.

In the advanced gifts division, James Kinney heads the business and industry section, and Dr. Roy Shaub heads the professional and individual sections. W. W. Franz is in charge of the general division.

The steering committee's members are J. P. O'Connor, Carl Berg, Vernon Riddle, William Grange, John Roper and C. D. (Chic) Hiatt.

Career Day Meeting Held At Gooding

GOODING, Nov. 23 (AP) — About 900 students from Gooding and Camas counties participated in Career Day held Friday at the Gooding high school.

Students attended classes conducted in various fields by college instructors and professionals.

The day's events began with an assembly. George Carrie, superintendent of Hagerman schools, introduced the keynote speaker, William Grabbe, Twin Falls.

Students then adjourned to various classes for 45-minute sessions on different subjects.

Four sessions were conducted. Students were dismissed at 2:30 p.m.

Colleges participating were:

Bonne Junior College, College of Idaho, Twin Falls; Business college, Idaho State University, Ricks College, University of Idaho, and Northwest Nazarene college.

Her husband had been shot as he sat beside her in a gaily dressed motorcycle. She had held him, bleeding and mortally wounded, in a speeding dash to the rear compartment to sit beside Kennedy's coffin on the jet plane home.

Mrs. Kennedy had just started to resume her official activities after the tragic death of her infant son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, three months ago.

Her first social appearance had been at a White House judicial reception, where she and the President entertained more than 600 guests Wednesday night.

Death struck at what was to be one of the happiest times of the year for the Kennedys—the birthday celebrations of their two children—Caroline and John Jr.—and the traditional gathering of the Kennedy clan for a festive Thanksgiving at Cape Cod.

White House emissaries had been dispatched to buy special favors for the birthday parties that had been planned for John, who will be 3 on Monday, and Caroline, turning 6 next Wednesday.

Now it remained for Mrs. Kennedy to console small children over the loss of their father. Evidently Mrs. Kennedy planned to break the news to them herself.

In the 10 years of her marriage to Kennedy, the one-time debutante Jacqueline Bouvier had faced other tragedies. She had suffered several miscarriages—one of them after the 1956 Democratic convention in which Kennedy narrowly missed being nominated for vice president.

With the tragedy written in her face, Mrs. Kennedy stood beside Lyndon B. Johnson in a crowded compartment of the presidential plane as he took the oath of office to succeed her husband.

When a Texas police captain who watched the scene said,

"I am a World War II veteran,

No Evidence Found About Soviet Union

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI) — State department authorities said today they have no evidence indicating involvement of the Soviet Union or any other foreign power in the assassination of President Kennedy.

Lee Harvey Oswald, a former marine who spent three years in the Soviet Union, has been charged with the shooting in Dallas, Tex., Friday.

When Oswald, 24, went to Russia he announced his intention to renounce his American citizenship. He told the U.S. embassy in Moscow he was a Marxist.

After having a change of mind and returning to the United States last year, Oswald reportedly became an active sympathizer of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.

State department authorities said they also know of no evidence that Cuba was involved in the assassination.

Gem Club Has New Officers

Officers of the Magic Valley Gem club, who will take over in January, were introduced by Raymond Orr, Buhl president, during the club's annual Thanksgiving dinner Thursday night at the Twin Falls IOOF hall.

Moon showed slides of the Gem-O-Rama held during the Labor day week-end at Twin Falls high school gymnasium.

WEATHER SIGN in front of Fidelity National bank in Twin Falls was putting out all kinds of weather information. The sign flashes time and temperature. It was flashing correct time, but would flash anything from 11 to 71 degrees in the space of a few minutes Saturday morning. Reason for the trouble was that electricians were working on the temperature mechanism, according to Lyle Frazer, executive vice president of the bank. The temperature was stuck at 32 degrees all day Friday, Frazer noted. He said the temperature part of the sign will be turned off until it is fixed. (Times-News photo)

Schedule for Rocket Shots Is Changed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Nov.

23 (UPI) — The death of President Kennedy split into two days the shots of an Atlas-Centaur rocket and an Interplanetary Monitoring platform — both vital stepping stones in the United States' goal of manned conquest of the moon.

Both shots originally were scheduled for Tuesday, but the national day of mourning declared for John F. Kennedy on Monday will prevent pre-launch operations being conducted as planned that day on Atlas-Centaur.

The national aeronautics and space administration announced today that it will close down all but essential operations at Cape

News of Lincoln's Death Took 12 Days to Reach Idaho

BOISE, Nov. 23 (UPI) — The first assassination of an American president, like the last brought gloom, outrage, shock and mourning to Idaho.

But in contrast to the instant communication of the news of President Kennedy's death, it

Canaveral Monday.

As a result, the firing of Atlas-Centaur, forerunner of a vehicle designed to land unmanned explorers on the moon, slipped one day to Wednesday between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. (EST).

The IMP launching was unaffected and remained on the Tuesday date, with the launching of the Delta booster scheduled between 9:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

"Balmy spring has really come at last. The lovely weather of yesterday made everything look cheerful and our streets were thronged with people, the most of whom were making preparations for the mines."

Idaho was passionately dividsympathizers, nearly all immigrants from states more directly involved; from Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri,

Virginia and the Carolinas.

ed the people so they stood aghast . . . business by common consent was entirely closed and the whole city set in mourning

more solemn than any Sabbath

Miss Gafford, Sackett Repeat Nuptial Promise

SUN., Nov. 23 — The Buhl Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception was the setting for the Nov. 16 candlelight rites in marriage Barbara Katherine Gafford, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Skinner, and James W. Gafford, Buhl, and O. D. Sackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville D. Sackett, Filer.

The double ring nuptials were solemnized by the Rev. Jerome J. O'Connor before an altar decorated with floral arrangements of American Beauty roses flanked by tall white flood baskets of the same flowers tied with wine-red satin bows.

The bride, given-in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over white bridal taffeta. A pointed neckline detailed with lace points and seed pearls and lace points sleeves were features of the molded bodice. The boutonniere was caught at the back with soft pleats which revealed a flowing chapel-train.

A queen's crown embellished with sequins and seed pearls replaced her double-tiered veil of silk illusion. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Hetman Pitterkamp.

The bride carried a white lace in topped with an array of American Beauty roses adorned with white satin bows and cascading satin streamers.

Mrs. Theodore Mraz, Buhl, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mary Sue Bonar was bridesmaid and Martha Gafford, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical wineberry colored brocade gowns, each designed with a fitted bodice, a deep neckline, short sleeves and softly gathered floor-sweeping skirts. Each carried a single American Beauty rose.

Gina Schiffer, Ogden, niece of the bridegroom, dressed identically to the other attendants, was flower girl. She carried a white lace, red with white satin streamers fitted with American beauty rose petals.

Jeff Osterkamp, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow edged with trimmings with cascading satin streamers and lilies of the valley.

Michael Carter, Mountain View, Calif., was best man. Mrs. Sackett, brother of the bridegroom, Twin Falls; Gerald Kastner, Hagerman, and Mark Hull, Filer, were ushers.

Altar boys serving at the ceremony were Douglas Karel, Buhl, and Dennis Brittan, Twin Falls.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Matilda Leahy, organist. She also accompanied Mr. Robert Blasstock, Jr., Filer, pianist.

The bride's mother selected a burgundy ribbon lace sheath dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale green and gold two-piece suit with matching accessories. The bride's stepmother wore a tan and gold sheath floor-length dress with black.

accessories. Each wore a corsage wedding party and immediate relatives at the Skinner residence.

The newlyweds greeted guests once with Mr. and Mrs. Osterkamp and Mr. and Mrs. Mraz.

At a reception held in the church parlor, the bride's table, covered with a linen tablecloth, was highlighted with a four-tiered wedding cake encrusted with white frosting, a clover base with smilax. It was decorated with ornate fleur-de-lis, clusters of white wedding bells centered with wineberry roses, miniature wineberry colored wedding bells outlined with seed pearl trim and topped with a heart-shaped brooch under a heart-shaped archway of lace.

Triple crystal candelabra with miniature wineberry tapers flanked the cake. Silver table appointments completed the table decor.

Mrs. Osterkamp and Mrs. Noel Brittan, aunt of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Florence Johnson, grandmother of the bride, presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Larry Sackett, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, poured punch.

Mrs. David Sparks, Boise, and Diane Roberts were in charge of the gift table. Jo Anne Johnson, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Mrs. Helen Holloman, Tremonton, was in charge of the reception.

For her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Sackett changed to a forest green mohair-knit two-piece suit with green and beige accessories. She also wore a American Beauty rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Buhl high school, class of 1963. She has been employed this past summer at the R and R cafe, Buhl.

The bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of the Filer high school and attended Idaho State University, Pocatello. The couple will reside in Twin Falls where the bridegroom is employed with Sears Roebuck and Company.

Following the reception, a buffet luncheon was served for the bride and groom at the home of Mrs. Howard Reed, Kynlu, Hufield, and Mrs. Henry Hatfield; a miscellaneous shower held at the Skinner residence hosted by Mrs. Brittan. Mrs. Albert Osterkamp, Mrs. Frank Karel, Mrs. Albert Eriksen and Mrs. George Juker, a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party was hosted by the bridegroom's parents in Filer. * * *

Bulls Set Mood on

Grain Mart

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (UPI)—The bulls set the market mood this week and paved the way for a sharp sell-off of grain futures on the Chicago board of trade.

Compared to last Friday, wheat was off 14 1/4 cents, a bushel, or 14 1/4 cents.

News of President Kennedy's assassination stopped disappointment over the continued delay in a wheat sale to Russia and word that a large eastern vegetable firm had filed a bankruptcy petition to fund soybeans a 16-cent loss.

The downturn in soybeans began last week when prices fell 10 cents.

Liquidation was persistent and was rejuvenated by a mid-week suspension of two brokerage firms from the board, although both were reinstated until Friday when one was again suspended from trade.

The standstill in Russian wheat sales knocked nearby wheat deliveries down 7 cents and distant contracts down more than 10 cents. Word of strong opposition to a wheat deal with Russia by a portion of the Senate and news that the Russians set May 21 as a deadline for any U.S. wheat shipments were bearish influences.

Southwest advices reported an unusually small amount of liquidation of the bread grain. Reports of rains in the Southwest wheat areas spurred selling until it was learned that the area still needs great amounts of moisture.

A large receipt of corn brought general selling and hedging to the feed grain. Prices slipped more than a cent. The local commodity credit corporation said that it did not plan to issue any general loading orders until sometime in January. Oats slipped 2 cents with corn.

Rye took an 8-cent dip on reports that quantities of the grain moved to Chicago from the Northwest and Canada.

Volume on the board was twice as great as a week ago and nearly four times larger than a year ago.

R.F. Kennedy Expected to Resign Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UPI)—President Kennedy's assassination has increased chances that his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, will resign from the cabinet in an effort to further his own political fortunes.

He had been persistent requesting the attorney general was preparing to leave the cabinet before his brother was shot down. These reports, however, did not come true.

Kennedy himself told reporters earlier this week that his current plans were to remain in the cabinet during the 1964 presidential race although he might do some campaigning in his brother's behalf.

Now all this is changed.

The attorney general has been the dynamo behind the execution of many of his brother's moves in the field of politics and in carrying out the duties of the president.

But he has been concerned for some time because both of his brothers were serving in elected posts while he held only an appointive office, generally an ineffective springboard for high political office.

Another factor bearing on Robert Kennedy's future is the fact that he will no longer be working with his brother in the White House.

Because of his great energies, the attorney general often was used by his brothers for assignments which had little or no relationship to his title. He has been happiest when he was tackling a tough job for his brother.

Gov. Connally Informed of Chief's Death

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 23 (UPI)—Grievously wounded Gov. John Connally was told today by his wife that President Kennedy is dead.

Governor talked to the Connallys shortly after 7 a.m. and Connally's first question was about Kennedy's condition.

After hearing her answer, he said, "That's what I was afraid of."

One of Connally's aides, Julian Read, described Connally's condition as much improved. He said that the governor also asked about Mrs. Kennedy and was told that she had returned to Washington.

Several of Connally's relatives hurried here Friday. These included four brothers, his sister and his mother.

The first Mrs. Connally knew of any shooting was when her husband whirled and said the "fall forward." He added, "This must have been about two seconds after Kennedy was shot."

"Connally's turn, which was to the left, probably saved his life. After the governor was shot, he also toppled forward."

Mrs. Connally talked to Kennedy relatives this morning and inquired about Mrs. Kennedy's condition. Read said Mrs. Connally expressed sympathy for her connards.

Read said President Johnson had called Mrs. Connally Friday night and asked about the governor's condition.

Assassination of President Shocks U.S. Business World

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UPI)—The assassination of President Kennedy on Friday shocked the business world to its roots.

Whatever ill feelings may have remained between the President and business evaporated in an outpouring of grief.

Only this week the President had sought to assure businessmen of the administration's friendship and to narrow the gulf that developed 18 months ago in the steel price crisis.

The commerce department reported that personal income in October ran at an annual rate of 470.3 billion dollars, up 3.3 billion dollars from September.

However, intentions to buy new cars, while up from a few months ago, weren't as ambitious as a year earlier.

Steel production rose during the week for the fourth consecutive week, totaling 1,970,000 tons, a gain of 11 per cent from the previous week.

A quick sampling of business leaders indicated that business may be in for a lull of several weeks as a result of Kennedy's death but that there will be no slump.

Earlier, Wall street was shaken by good and bad financial news.

Spirits were raised in the Street and across the country when American Telephone and Telegraph company voted to split its common stock 2-for-1, raised the dividend and offered its 2.3 million stockholders rights to buy 12.25 million shares of stock.

AT and T, world's largest utility, will double the shares held by its biggest family of stockholders next June. It also will pass out an extra 10 cents in each quarterly dividend next year.

Its stock offering will give stockholders the right to buy one new share for each 20 held on Feb. 18. Proceeds will help finance a record 3.25-billion-dollar construction program in 1964.

The price of the commodities dropped sharply in the last week as a deal to sell wheat to the Soviet Union stalled in Congress. The wheat deal was considered a prelude to commodity sales.

Analyzing the health of the economy, the Morgan Guaranty Trust company of New York commented that, "The current round of business expansion, now in its 33rd month, is putting on

Expressions Of Sorrow Noted Here

Reactions of shock and disbelief were still in the air Saturday over the death of former President John F. Kennedy.

Douglas D. Kramer, Twin Falls national executive committee chairman for the American Legion of Idaho, said, "President Kennedy was an honored veteran of this country who faced death in combat while fighting our enemy."

"He was an outstanding member of the American Legion, who only two years ago received the Legion's highest award. It is shocking to believe that a man who gave so much of his short life for his country could be slain by a bullet presumably shot by a citizen of this country."

The American Legion in Idaho joins with the nation in our deepest sorrow and in our sympathy for his family."

H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager, said, "Like all other Americans, I am deeply concerned and shocked that such a thing could happen to the President of our country, regardless of what our party affiliations may be. This will be a big blow to our country."

William Lanting, Hollister, majority leader of the Idaho house of representatives, stated, "Most regretful of the sudden untimely death. This will be recorded as one of the more tragic in our history. We often say in defense of our system of government that we settle our differences by bullets rather than by bullets. In sorrow we must hang our head in shame."

The play is the story of the slaying of President Abraham Lincoln.

When the play was in its final moments, word was received that President Kennedy had been assassinated.

Real Drama NAMPA, Nov. 23 (UPI)—News of real drama of today struck close to a staged drama of nearly a century ago at Nampa high school's little theater yesterday.

The third district one-act play festival was under way. The stage was set for a presidential assassination as Cambridge high school drama students presented the play, "The Last Curtain." The play is the story of the slaying of President Abraham Lincoln.

When the play was in its final moments, word was received that President Kennedy had been assassinated.

Death Comes to Mrs. Vaughn SHOSHONE, Nov. 23—Death came Friday morning after moving to Bellevue in 1904. She was married to George E. Campbell July 3, 1898, at Hailey. He died in December, 1951. She was a member of Order of Eastern Star, Bethany chapter No. 23, at Hailey. All preceding her in death was a son.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Myers, Bellevue; a sister, Mrs. Alta Ronta, Sun City, Fla., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Bellevue Community church by Terri Allen. Final rites will be held at the Hailey cemetery under the direction of the Masonic lodge.

Friends may call at Bergin funeral home Monday evening and at the church Tuesday until time of services. The family suggests memorials be made to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, Salt Lake City, or to the Children's Home society, Boise.

The first Mrs. Connally knew of any shooting was when her husband whirled and said the "fall forward." He added, "That's what I was afraid of."

Connally's turn, which was to the left, probably saved his life. After the governor was shot, he also toppled forward."

Mrs. Connally talked to Kennedy relatives this morning and inquired about Mrs. Kennedy's condition. Read said Mrs. Connally expressed sympathy for her connards.

Read said President Johnson had called Mrs. Connally Friday night and asked about the governor's condition.

UTAH STUNS UTAH STATE IN 25-23 UPSET

Underdog Utes Combine Two Late Scoring Drives With Last-Minute Stand

LOGAN, Utah, Nov. 23 (AP)—Underdog Utah engineered two fourth quarter touchdown drives, then staged a last-minute goal line stand today to edge Utah State 25-23 in their traditional football game. A Romney stadium record crowd of 16,220 watched in 30-degree weather as the Utah Redskins came from behind on the passing arm of Gary Hertzfeldt to overtake the heavier and slow-moving Aggies. Hertzfeldt passed 35 yards to wingback Mike Davis for the winning points.

Utah State, favored from one to two touchdowns, almost pulled out the game in the final three minutes. The Staters drove from their 25 to the Utah one where halfback Larry Campbell was piled up as the game ended.

Utah State's Bill Munson, brilliant in defeat, set a school record for passing yardage in a

70-Yard Run Helps Florida Top Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—A 70-yard touchdown dash by Hagood Clarke shattered a 14-14 deadlock tonight and Florida defeated Miami 27-21 in a traditional football battle dedicated to the memory of the nation's dead president, John F. Kennedy. In the Orange bowl stadium where Kennedy attended New Year's day games as president-elect and president, 67,773 persons participated in pre-game and half-time ceremonies for the man felled Friday by an assassin bullet in Dallas.

Florida and Miami considered cancelling or postponing the game, as so many others did throughout the nation, but decided with Gov. Farris Bryant's approval that it should go on so that spectators could join in a mass service.

The teams were locked in a tight struggle when Clarke accepted a handoff to the weak side, slipped out of the arms of the one tackler and sped to the winning touchdown.

Then, moments later, Alan Poe pounced on a wild Miami lateral at the Hurricane 46 to put the Gators in position for a clinching score. Tom Shannon whipped a 26-yard pass to Poe and later snaked across from a yard out.

Miami's All-American George Mirra put on a great aerial show, throwing three touchdown passes, and might have guided the Hurricanes to victory if his receivers had not dropped many passes he threw directly into their arms.

Shannon's passes of 20 and 12 yards to Charles Caskey and 10 yards to Harry Dupree sparked the Gators on an 81-yard drive that produced the first touchdown on the initial play of the second period.

Mira shot the Hurricanes quickly back into contention hitting Nick Spinnell, Hoyt Sparks and Jack Sims with three passes that covered 70 yards. Then, on a fake field goal, he caught the Gators flattened with a 15-yard touch-down pass to Sparks.

Mira threw 20 yards to Russell Smith for another touchdown in the third period, only to have Florida's Larry Dupree knot the score with a six-yard burst. Great running by Miami's Pete Banaszak and Florida's Allen Trammell highlighted the two drives.

Then, after the Gators had scrambled to 27-14 lead, Mira hit Banaszak with his third touch-down pass, covering 15 yards.

Guerrilla Attacks Rise In Viet Nam

TEN HIEP, South Viet Nam, Nov. 23 (AP)—The pace of communist guerrilla attacks has risen swiftly on this battlefield of canals and rice paddy fields only 40 miles north of Saigon.

One after another, eight government outposts were hit Thursday. The Viet Cong guerrillas captured large numbers of U.S.—supplied weapons, killed defenders and drove many others into the paddy fields.

The Viet Cong moved almost to the gates of My Tho, headquarters of the Vietnamese seventh division. This forced the seventh to strike out from the normally quiet town and disperse the guerrillas, "to give us some elbow room," as a U.S. military adviser put it.

So hot is the action that U.S. armed helicopters have had to double as flying ambulances to bring out the wounded. Helicopters are averaging eight flying hours a day, far more than ever before.

The Viet Cong's object appears to be to discredit the military regime that toppled President Ngo Dinh Diem. The tempo of guerrilla attacks has been rising ever since he was overthrown Nov. 1.

Millet Named to Position at BYU

PROVO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Floyd Millet, a veteran coach and Salt Lake City insurance executive, was named today as new athletic director at Brigham Young University.

Millet will succeed Dr. Edwin R. Kimball, who resigned last week, after 11 years to accept a new post at the university.

Millet was head basketball coach at BYU for eight years, from 1941 to 1949; head football coach for one year, in 1942; and was athletic director for three years during World War II.

In 1948, Millet guided the Cougars basketball team to the championship in the old Mountain States Athletic conference. He also coached track.

topped only by his fullback, Pat Donnelly, with 518 yards.

Lest it be assumed that Navy is strictly a passing team, the figures show that of 40 touch- downs, only eight have come on passes. The Middies pack a potent outside threat in sprinter John Sal, the team scoring leader with 10 touchdowns, including a 93-yard dash against Duke.

If the game is played on sched- ule, Roger Staubach and his pass-minded Navy mates will be favored to give Coach Wayne Hardin an unprecedent fifth straight victory over Army's sturdy ground forces.

A Cotton bowl bid for Navy could hang in the balance of this 64th renewal of a rousing rivalry dating back to 1890. A sellout crowd of 100,000 had been as- sured before the tragic event in Dallas. The game at Philadelphia stadium will be carried on network television (CBS) and radio (Mutual). Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. EST.

Staubach, called by Hardin "the finest player I have ever seen," has led the Middies up to this important game to an 8-1 record, marred only by a 32-29 defeat by Southern Methodist. Navy is ranked No. 2 in the nation behind Texas in the Associated Press poll.

Fullback Bill Waltrip scored three Vanderbilt touchdowns and turned in a sparkling offensive performance, aided by the running of halfback Toby Wilt. Quarterback Dave Waller contributed the fourth touchdown on a 33-yard scamper in the closing minute. Waltrip opened the scoring with a touchdown in the second quarter and scored again in the third and fourth.

In addition to completing 101 of 150 passes for 1,375 yards and seven touchdowns, the fine junior quarterback from Cincinnati has scored eight touchdowns running. Time after time, Staubach has taken off for substantial yardage when his receivers were covered or he was rushed. He carried 144 times for 363 yards, a mark play on a day when Dietzel praised him as "an All-America back if I ever saw one." Fullback Ray Paske is the bread-and-butter man up the middle, with receiver Curt Lindner.

Navy has the decided edge based on a common foe, Pittsburgh. The Middies beat Pitt 24-12 and Army was clobbered 28-0 by Dietzel.

Except for a 24-8 defeat by Minnesota and the Pitt disaster, Army's defense has been tremen- dous. The Edels shut out everybody at West Point until Utah scored in the fifth and last home game, won by Army 8-7. The Cadets ground it out against Penn State 10-7, blunting State's potent attack and outscrambled the Air Force in a thriller 14-10. None of the other opponents, except Utah, were in the ball game.

Huskers Clinch Conference Spot In Orange Bowl

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP) — Nebraska won its Big Eight conference football championship in 23 years today by mastering Oklahoma's sixth-ranked team, 23-20 and moved into the Orange bowl New Year's Day. Oklahoma's fumbles, a devastating Nebraska defense and the hard running of Rudy Johnson, Willie Ross, Dennis Clarendge and Kent McLoughlin turned the victory into a fourth quarter rout.

The victory rounded out a 9-1 season overall, 7-0 in the Big eight, and automatically put the Cornhuskers in the Orange bowl at Miami.

for the season and 5-1 in the conference. The Sooners had won 16 in a row in the conference since 1961.

Holding a slender 3-0 lead at halftime, Nebraska capitalized on Oklahoma's fumble of a Nebraska punt early in the second half, tackle Lloyd Voss recovering on Oklahoma's 15. Johnson made the short drive good on a one-yard plunge and oranges ran onto the field as the near-capacity crowd of 38,495 savored the Orange bowl prospects.

Nebraska again using a fumble to advantage, added seven more points in the wild fourth quarter on Clarendge's one-yard plunge and tacked-on two more touchdowns in the game's closing minutes. The late Nebraska touchdowns were scored by McLoughlin and Fred Duda.

The Sooneers lost a net of five yards in the first quarter and were held to a total offense of 28 yards in the first half.

Oklahoma covered 57 yards on its first touchdown drive, aided by a 35-yard pass from Bobby Page to end John Portfield. A 22-yard pass from Ronald Fletcher to John Flynn provided the score.

Two more Nebraska touchdowns intervened before Oklahoma closed out the game on two drives by Wes Skidgel on a 22-yard run and a 25-yard pass from Tommy Pannell.

The only score in the first half was Dave Theisen's 27-yard field goal in the first period.

Nebraska Coach Says Defensive Line Provided Win Over Sooners

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP) — Nebraska's Bob Devaney gave the credit for his Orange bowl win over Oklahoma to his defensive line Saturday. "We were hitting extremely well. We had the best hitting on defense since I have been here," said Devaney without emotion. In the loser's dressing room, coach Bud Wilkinson said "Nebraska is the best in the conference. We have no excuses." Wilkinson, always calm whether on the sidelines or in the dressing room, saw his team lose on fumbles. Devaney, whose Huskers had held only a 3-0 lead at the half after knocking on the touchdown door several times, said he was fearful of an Oklahoma second half comeback. The big break in the ball game did come swiftly when the second half opened.

When Oklahoma tumbled a punt deep in its own territory and Nebraska recovered, Wilkinson seemingly knew this was a turn of events that could very well seal the decision.

On the sidelines he gave a swift backward kick at a piece of paper. This, and a sudden tensing of his jaw muscles were the only signs that he knew the big break had gone against him.

When his offending player, Lance Rentzel, came to the side lines, Wilkinson gave him a quick hug and a few words of encouragement as tears welled in the eyes of Rentzel.

Devaney also mentioned the game would go on.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, the Milwaukee Journal and the Los Angeles Times reported protests in similar vein against the Washington at Philadelphia, San Francisco-Green Bay at Milwaukee and the Baltimore at Los Angeles games.

A spokesman for the Steelers in Pittsburgh said "an overwhelming number of telephone calls" were received and that "some expressed surprise" that the Chicago at Pittsburgh game would be played. A Green Bay spokesman said "few protests had been received."

The office of James Tate, mayor of Philadelphia, said the mayoralty had asked Mr. Rozele, commissioner of the NFL, to postpone the Eagles-Redskins game, but had been turned down.

Tony Zecca, Tate's press secretary, said "I told Rozele that we had called Mr. McNamee (Frank McNamee, Eagles' president) and Leo Dorsey, an attorney who represents Washington, and neither wanted to play."

Washington was willing to forego its $75,000 guarantee, Zecca said.

"He (Rozele) said the league does not feel it would be disrespectful to play the game on Sunday because President Johnson's proclamation does not specify the day of mourning as Sunday, but Monday," Zecca said.

Zecca was not available for comment.

The big guard said that during the week he had worried a bit about whether the Huskers would be "up" for this game. But, he continued, the team spirit came to life in the last hours before the game.

Dave Thiesen, who kicked the field goal that gave Nebraska its first-half lead, and in the second half intercepted a pass, said that he missed his first field goal try because "I was thinking too hard about making it good."

"On the second one I just didn't think about it," he said.

Oklahoma's powerful fullback, Jim Grisham, said of the Sooners' sinking: "We just gave them too much. Pass interceptors and fumbles gave them too much field position. Bob Brown did a fine job on defense. He was all over the field."

Miss Wright Is Tourney Winner

JAL, N.M., Nov. 23 (AP) — Mickey Wright won the Kathy Whitworth golf tournament today with a three-under par 66.

The best Kathy Whitworth could do in the $2,500, one-day, 18-hole tournament named for her was a fourth place tie. The tournament was part of "Kathy Whitworth's Day," sponsored by the community of Jal, Miss Whitworth's home town.

The other team will be chosen, probably next week, from a group of college including Ohio University, Furman and Coast Guard academies.

Only a goal by Murry Oliver late in the final period spoiled the shutout bid of veteran To-

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 23 (AP)—Jimmy Sidde, who may be the nation's No. 1 ball-carrier, scored three touchdowns today in piling ninth-ranked Auburn to a 21-15 victory over the Florida State Seminoles.

Even though he watched part of the game from the bench resting for next week's encounter.

with Alabama, the Tigers' quarterback picked up 132 yards running to strengthen his bid for national championship.

With Sidde in the game, Auburn had the drive needed to turn back the invaders and capitalize on the breaks. Without him, the Tigers were in trouble.

The Seminoles, badly outplayed for the first half, tried their defense after the intermission and made it more difficult for Auburn to break through. Then a pass interception gave the Indians scoring opportunity and a 2-yard punt return put them in position for another. They made both of them good.

Arkansas Jumps to Early Lead and Outlasts Texas Tech for 27-20 Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 23 (AP)—Arkansas wrapped a break-even football season today by edging Texas Tech in a Southwest conference game 27-20 on the weight of a 24-yard touchdown run by quarterback Billy Gray. The Arkansans jumped into the front with three touchdowns, one on an 80-yard punt return by Kenny Hatfield before the Texas Tech Red Raiders hit pay dirt. But then the

Two major rule changes, one of which will hamper a fast-breaking team to a degree, will debut along with the basketball season in Magic Valley Dec. 3.

"The two changes that fans should be most conscious of are: (1) the official must hand the ball to a player on any out-of-bounds play except after a goal and (2) the clock will stop on all violations. The rest are largely matters for coaches and officials to worry about and won't be noticeable from the stands."

Previously, any time the violation, such as travelling and three seconds in lane rule, occurred in backcourt, the opponents could immediately take the ball out of bounds. Often this resulted in a quick basket if the defensive team did not react and retreat hurriedly down the floor. Now they can take their time because the officials must hand—hot toss or bounce—the ball to the opposition.

The second rule should make the game a few minutes longer and actually provide more action whatever the few seconds might mean. One thing that is now dead is the old method of holding the ball the last five seconds out of bounds to let the clock tick off and protect a one-point lead. The ball will have to be in play now.

So really basketball will be just about what you remember from last year. The biggest problem still remains deciding between offensive charging and defensive blocking. Remember this boozers, when in doubt, the foul is charged against the offensive man.

With the cancellation of games for Idaho State and Idaho, the state's college season is now at a close. Underdogs in both events, ISU and Idaho probably aren't too disappointed, although there's always that eternal wondering. Not having to play Arizona State, winner of seven straight, Idaho came up with a 5-4 record—it's first winning season since 1938.

Speaking of the colleges, we have been asked about last week's column about the ISU-Idaho game. In it, we noted it was impossible to interview coach Babe Ciccia. Some evidently gained the infelicitous Babe-made himself unavailable to us, although we specifically noted there was "no snub." Babe had a meeting with his boys in the clubhouse, we had to get back to the desk. Time and circumstances made it impossible. Nothing else.

Southern Idaho coaches believe next year will be one of the league's best. Although the footbal teams may not have the strength of Borah and Boise this year, the coaches foresee a general upgrading in the caliber of completion and much better balance. Pocatello, Highland, Nampa and Caldwell all relied heavily on Juniors this season. Half of Twin Falls' defensive unit came from the junior class. Boise and Borah will be down somewhat. Borah coach Ed Troxel believes his club next year will be his smallest. Other coaches say this means the Borah defensive line average might get down to 210 pounds. "You can't say anything around those guys," Troxel moaned.

In basketball, Murray Satterfield believes he will have his best team since being at Borah, but again the other coaches see an up swing for 1964-63.

Shades of 1962-63.

Knicks Sprint Past Detroit

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers combined a stiff defense with a speedy fast break attack and whipped the Detroit Pistons 100-99 tonight.

With Detroit going more than four minutes without a point midway through the fourth quarter, New York's attack suddenly jelled.

Len Chappell and Bill McGill led the Knicks surge with 23 points and 22 respectively. Art Heyman doing the feeding, Heyman led New York's scorers with 23 points and Chappell had 22.

Detroit had taken the lead in the third period with some hot shooting by Bailey Howell and Don-Ohl-Howell's 28 points led all scorers.

Tennessee Uses Strong Running Game to Collect 19-0 Win Over Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 23 (P) — Tennessee displayed a strong running attack hitting up three touchdown passes, to defeat Kentucky 19-0 in a Southeastern conference football game today. Hard-running by Mallon Faircloth, Hal Wantland, Stan Mitchell and Pat Canini set up the touchdowns. Wantland passed four yards to Bob Petrella for the Vols' first score in the opening period and tossed 17 yards to Billy Tomlinson for the third touchdown. Faircloth passed 26 yards to Buddy Fisher for the second Vol score.

The heavier Tennessee line opened gaping holes for the Vol backs, running from the single wing. Tennessee kept to its ground attack until it moved close to the Kentucky goal, then opened the Kentucky defense with passes.

The Vol defense put a strong rush on Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton, intercepting three of his passes and forcing him to throw off balance. Kentucky's offense was never able to get started.

Athletic director Ernie McCoy said that "under no circumstances will Penn State accept any invitation-to-compete-in-a post-season football game."

The action was taken because of the postponement Saturday of the Penn State game due to the death of the late President Kennedy. The game was rescheduled for Dec. 7, meaning two more weeks of practice for the Nittany Lions. It was felt bowl practice would add too much of an extra burden.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the numerous college football postponements because of Kennedy's death may force the Liberty bowl date to be moved back one week.

"That's something we're considering," said Liberty Bowl President Bud Dudley. "We'll have to talk to the television people before making any decision," said Dudley.

The Liberty bowl is now scheduled for Philadelphia stadium Dec. 21.

South Idaho League Has Bright Future

Southern Idaho conference coaches reaffirmed the independency and solidarity of the league during their fall meeting in Twin Falls Saturday. The coaches said the conference looked forward to continued growth with no thoughts toward dividing into East-West segments as has been suggested. This idea arose when Idaho Falls withdrew from the SIC and formed the Eastern Idaho conference along with five other schools in the fourth, fifth and sixth districts.

SIC coaches said the only possibility for this eventuality would be the resignation of both Pocatello schools from the league.

However, Pocatello reaffirmed that both would remain in the 24-year-old league.

"I don't know where this poverty talk started," said Highland representative John Evans. "We (Highland) ended the season with some money left over and Pocatello has more than we do."

Clouding the possibility of the Pocatello schools maintaining their memberships is the prospect of the third high school in Boise, which is scheduled to open in 1965. This will mean one additional trip in football and two in basketball for the Pocatello schools each year.

Jim Guy, Caldwell, was named to spearhead an investigation into equalization of transportation.

Guy will assemble mileage and traveling expense facts and meet with school principals next spring on the feasibility of the move.

Guy noted the soon-to-be five schools in the Boise area enjoy short distances and, due to rivalry feelings, usually better gates.

He felt the equalization of traveling expenses would further show the Southern Idaho conference was the athletic leader in the state.

In other action, the coaches delayed several college games listed in the Times-News grid-casting contest, this week's announcement of winners will be delayed until after Thanksgiving day.

Argentine won the event, with the Germans second.

"We understand the feelings of the Americans," a spokesman for the German team said, "but we feel we must compete."

The Germans finished with 36 points for the eight-day show.

Games included on the schedule that have been can-canceled will, of course, be omitted in deciding the champion.

Threatened Grab Of Idaho Water Speeds Projects

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER

Times-News Feature Editor

As the saying goes, "You never miss the water 'till the well runs dry."

The threatened Los Angeles water grab has stirred up farmers, businessmen, professional men and just plain folks to the extent that it is developing into a blessing in disguise.

Until earlier this month, when the southern California community officials said they could use 2,500,000 acre feet of Snake river water annually, Idaho waterholders, were more or less taking their rights for granted.

Then, with the threat, it suddenly looked like the proposed project was feasible. Engineers, off the record, say that the diversion would be rather simple and the more than 500-mile long aqueduct not too difficult to construct.

Money? This, they admit, never stopped anyone before, so why now?

With voices combined, Idahoans started to scream for action — practically any action — and the great roar probably will trigger rapid advancements of irrigation projects under way, those in the planning stage and those in the dream stage.

Prominent among plans which now have a much better chance of getting water is the Guffey project, which would irrigate some 131,000 acres; mostly in the desert near Mountain Home.

In Twin Falls, the atmosphere is likely to be clearer. The proposal by officials of the Salmon River Canal company that water be pumped from the Forebay at Milner, to a canal which would connect with the present irrigation system south of Twin Falls, will be more warmly received.

After all, as one farmer put it, "this would be a sure way to keep the water at home and aid our own economy."

Surveys show that the increase in the Salmon tract acreage would mean more to Twin Falls and Magic Valley than would the establishment here of several great industries.

Apparently it had been known for years that more water was available for farm use than meets the eye, but only in the past couple of weeks has it hit the headlines.

In fact, it was on Oct. 31 that Carl E. Tappan, Idaho state reclamation engineer, presented a paper at Washington State University, Pullman.

This paper proved to be practically like looking into the crystal ball of the fortune tellers. It was delivered before California's water plan was announced.

The title of Tappan's remarks was "Underground water in the Snake river plain: discovery and use of a great unique aquifer."

In case you are not acquainted with what an aquifer is, Webster defines it as a "water-bearing stratum of rock, sand or gravel capable of being penetrated."

The penetration could be by water, and that is just what has happened on the Snake plain, that great area of mud, rock, desert and soil north of Snake river.

Getting back to the address of the Idaho reclamation engineer, he pointed out another interesting thing. This great body of water could be recharged — in other words the underground lake and rivers could be refilled as used.

"This aquifer is unique in several ways," Tappan said. "First, it is large, a great body of underground water. Its dimension is known, its capacity can be determined and it can be recharged."

"Much of the flood water now going to the ocean can be diverted to recharge basins on the plain and made available as subterranean water."

He had hit the nail on the head even before Los Angeles announced the intent to get Snake water. Instead of letting the water rush off downstream, put it underground where it could be taken when needed.

As far back as 1901 a survey had been made of the Snake river plain to ascertain how far

Traveling Tourists Show Change

By JIM BECKER
SALISBURY, England, Nov. 23

THE word around these days is that American tourists aren't what they used to be.

They have, the story goes, been abroad so often that they no longer order hamburgers at the "Four d'Argent," throw dollar bills around like confetti and complain about the coffee where ever they go.

To investigate this story, a correspondent traveled incognito on a tourist bus through southern England.

The following conversation was recorded as it happened, with the guide speaking in an exaggerated British accent, and the tourists in nasal tones that were sharp enough to quarry rock:

Guide: Here we are at the Salisbury cathedral, which you may recognize from the famous painting by Constable.

"What did he say?"

"I don't know. With that accent I can't understand a word he says."

"Somebody named Constable buried here I think."

"Don't they ever wash these places? This one looks about 700 year old. It might not look bad if they washed it."

Guide: You will notice the beautiful stained glass windows, but only the one at the end is original. The Puritans smashed the others.

"That sounds like an anti-American remark."

"What did he say?"

"The Americans smashed the windows."

"They could do with a cleaning."

"These people don't appreciate anything you do for them."

Guide: And here is a tomb with a wooden effigy. The school boys here have a curious custom—they carve their initials in the effigy upon graduation.

"What did he say?"

"People have been carving their initials in the statue."

"It's Americans. That's what it is. They carve their initials in everything."

Guide: No, madam, these are local schoolboys. They have this

"Don't tell me. They're Americans. My countrymen. It's terrible. You see it all over Europe. Last Saturday I saw it in Madrid."

"I saw it in Milan. Have you ever been in Milan?"

"I had my pocket picked there last year. Or was it Florence?"

MORE PIPES SUCH as this one may spring up along the Snake river canyon as water now flowing past here, and out of Idaho, is put to beneficial use because of the loss threat of such water to California. This pipe will carry water to a new project on the south side of the Snake river below Glenn Ferry. Man in the picture gives a comparison in size. The water will be pumped from the river, background, over the lava, rock canyon wall. (Times-News photo)

Exchange Youth Leaves Rupert

RUPT, Nov. 23 — Bill Larmour, a Rotary exchange student from Australia, who has been attending Milco for the last 10 months, left for his homeland

this week. He embarked from

Vancouver Friday for Australia

where he is scheduled to arrive

Dec. 18.

The exchange student had special praise for the six weeks home rotation basis on which his local stay was conducted.

During his visit in Rupert he lived with families of Rupert Rotary members including Fred Fricke,

Thomas Mabrey, Dr. H. O.

Foote, Sherman Bellwood,

Charles Crenson, and Ralph

Smith.

Larmour summarized the main differences of the two countries

in saying that the people of America often live more casually and at a faster pace than the people in Australia.

He feels there is definite danger in placing too much value on material things and many Americans might do well to realize this, he said.

In speaking on his stay, the exchange student said there were naturally some adjustments to be made but felt the experiences were well worth it. He said the broader outlook he now has of things is probably one of the big benefits he has received from his stay in Rupert. Larmour explained that he found life in America to be quite similar to that of his homeland.

The exchange student reported eating habits very somewhat between the two countries, especially concerning the use of the knife and fork. The Australians hold the fork in their left hand and use the knife along with the fork without putting the knife down.

Australian high school students are different since everyone wears school uniforms. He added that American girls act much more mature and wear more makeup than the Australian girls.

He added that "being an exchange student broadens a person's outlook on the world and strengthens his convictions."

He said he was "especially lucky to be able to come to such a wonderful place as Idaho."

Among those waiting to welcome him home will be his parents and two younger brothers.

IT LOOKS SO NICE it is a shame he will not see his plump turkey, that is! # Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Mrs. Thayne Lancaster, FILER, like many other people in Magic Valley, loves antiques and makes a hobby of collecting them. For quite some time, Mrs. Lancaster has been looking for an all-white pitcher and basin set for her collection. These sets, which every bedroom contained in years past, rate high on collectors' lists, so she was overjoyed when her husband, returning from a quarter horse sale trip to northern Idaho, brought her a set. However, as she was unwrapping the precious pieces, her husband said, "There was another piece to the set but I didn't bring it. It was a big round thing with a lid—must be a cookie jar. I didn't think you would want it."

Mrs. Lancaster immediately recognized the "cookie jar thing" for what it was—a very important article for boudoir use years ago. She immediately placed a telephone call to the dealer of the store where the set had been purchased and told the clerk to save her the object.

She was in luck as the store still had the article, which they sent her, so now her three piece set is complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chamberlain, BUHL, who are being honored today at an open house in observance of their golden wedding, come from pioneer families. Mrs. Chamberlain is the former Era Pettijohn and her family cleared land south of KIMBERLY. Her husband's family homesteaded west of Buhl in one of the first land drawings.

Mrs. Pettijohn came to guilf to teach at the Fairview school in 1911. After a year of teaching in Washington, she returned in 1913 to the Fairview school.

That year she met and married Chamberlain. They still live on part of the original Chamberlain homestead. Chamberlain has been active in the Masonic Lodge and Mrs. Chamberlain has been active for 17 years in the Every Woman's club at CAS-TLEFORD.

This bride of 50 years also has belonged to the Idaho Writers' League and at one time served as president of the TWIN FALLS chapter.

She has collaborated with her brother, C. A. Pettijohn, retired district court judge, Davenport,

The boxed trees in the business streets with petunias along the base also drew the traveler's attention.

Stamp Window

By DAVID SWIT

Many collectors looking for new fields of interest are turning to various stamp specialties, and high on the popularity list are flag cancellations—which combine beauty, economy, knowledge and fun with a real philatelic challenge.

The postmarks are among the most attractive known, and were used—from 1894 to 1941—in some 3,200 towns in every state and most U.S. possessions. This long period of use means both that there are no price-inflating hoards of the rarer cancellations, and "made-to-order" covers can never enter the flag field. They also are the only group of U.S. cancellations for which there is a catalog listing all varieties.

Sources of starters for a flag cancel collection include dealers' nickel-and-dime boxes of inexpensive envelopes, groups of picture post cards—which were most popular during the flag era.

Further information about the cancellations can be found in a new illustrated brochure available from the Flag Cancel Society. It gives basic information on flags and how to collect them, and shows examples of 13 of the more interesting cancellations. The brochure is available by writing the society at Box 1302, Wheaton, Md., 20092, and enclosing a large-size stamped addressed envelope.

Four Canada geese in flight are shown in a 16-cent regular stamp issued by Canada in the denomination used most frequently for overseas airmail and parcel post. Finland marked 40 years of air service with a pair of stamps showing airplanes. Gambia's 13-cent-value new regular series shows various birds in multicolor and a portrait of Queen Elizabeth. Malaysia honored the Ninth Commonwealth Parliamentary conference at Kuala Lumpur with a pair of stamps featuring a line drawing of the Malayan houses of parliament and the emblem of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association. New Zealand issued two stamps to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the New Zealand railways. One shows old and modern railway engines while the other depicts

Optometrist Talks Before PTA Group

RICHFIELD, Nov. 23—"Eighty-five per cent of all knowledge is learned through the eyes," Dr. Westley Rose, Jerome optometrist, told parents at the Richfield PTA meeting Thursday evening. In stressing the importance of good vision to be gluing students, Dr. Rose stated that modern day living makes more demands on vision.

He pointed out parents and teachers could watch for symptoms that might indicate vision problems, such as skipping words in reading, re-reading, pointing, complaints of word-jumping, tilting of the head when reading, rubbing eyes, squinting or shutting one eye, nervousness, poor posture or reluctance to wash, on a book about their family. The volume describes genealogy and history of the family which dates back to the early American colonies.

It was published about 15 years ago. She also has articles in 10 other publications.

Even though the first snow of the season has ushered in winter weather in Twin Falls this week, garden lovers, who never stop thinking of the outdoors, will be pleased to know the city received a glowing account in a California paper this fall.

A column written by Ada Perry in the San Diego Union describes the lushous "hedges of zinnias" which the writer observed in front of corn patches.

She also notes Twin Falls was "gaily" flowered with asters, sparkling petunias as thick as weeds, lace vine in fluffed-out white bloom and perennial phlox.

The boxed trees in the business streets with petunias along the base also drew the traveler's attention.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Bank President Convinced New Water Source for City Rates as Top Project

Listening to the heartbeat of Twin Falls, through business connections, has convinced James E. Phelps, president of the First Security Bank of Twin Falls, that the top-project here is solving the water supply and distribution problem.

With the community growing and more demands being made on the present source of supply, Phelps is of the opinion that a new supply source for domestic water is top on the list.

Next in line, although not particularly in order of importance, is a complete new-supply system and adequate storm sewers.

"With fevers high because of the anticipated diversion of water to California, now is the time to really go after a new supply," he said.

"A city the size of Twin Falls cannot expect to drink out of an irrigation canal forever."

With his many community activities, he is in a position to urge betterment of Twin Falls "and I intend to do so as long as I am here," he says.

"No community can just mark time and get anywhere," he declared. "Sure, it will cost money and taxes, but it will benefit those who pay."

"The city administration is to be complimented for the start made and I would now tell them that the time is ripe for rapid moves. I'm sure they know this is the truth."

Phelps, born on a small farm in Henry county, Tenn., on Sept. 21, 1922, had no idea as a boy he would end up as a banker. In fact, money was so scarce in his youth that he hardly knew what it was.

Cotton and sweet potatoes were cash crops at that time in the South and the cotton was picked by hand. There were no tractors, such as those used by farmers today. Mules did the heavy work.

His early education opportunities were practically the same as those available to the first settlers in the district where he was born.

Through the first grade he was in a one-room schoolhouse with one teacher presiding over grades

one through eight. A recent visit back home disclosed the school had burned and now consolidation

had eliminated the one-room structures.

When he was 12 his father died

plus that while the younger

brothers could earn back there

in the same town, sold the farm

and moved her family into Henry,

a small trade center which

was bustling then but which now

is a sleepy village bypassed by the express highways.

He was graduated from the Henry high school at 17 years of age and found that it was up to him to support his mother, an older sister and two younger brothers. The insurance money left by his father had been used up.

Jobs in that area didn't pay much. For instance, he received

75 cents a day for his labors and even brought his own lunch. This was during the depression.

Things were looking up. He landed a job with the M and M

Plywood company for the unheard of wage of 75 cents an hour.

With money he sent home

plus that while the younger

brothers could earn back there

in the same town, sold the farm

and moved her family into Henry,

a small trade center which

was bustling then but which now

express highways.

He served as a specialist

instructor-in-a-fire-fighting school, showing new sailors how to put out fires aboard ship.

The smoke-eating got to the point where I could hardly stand

it day after day," Phelps recalled.

And as a result there were 25 of us who volunteered for sea duty.

We were sent to Scotland and,

believe it or not, ended up building

more fire schools.

"We really thought we had hit

the jackpot when we were assigned to get into the invasion of Normandy. Our unit got the Presidential citation for that service, but, you know, after we were there and getting shot at I think all we wished we were back at the fire school eating smoke,

he said.

RECALLING A business venture which began 10 years ago are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yelton, Norland. Norland in those days looked pretty much like the picture shown. Actually, the picture was snapped a few feet away from the location of Yelton's grocery store, which opened its doors for business when the north side was little more than arbor and desert. Homesteaders have since opened the county up and the Yeltons were honored by their customers with a special dinner and gifts at the Rupert Elks Lodge. Yelton sold his store to Elwood Gray, a homesteader on the north side. (Times-News photo) because of the road conditions, and Yelton would arrange to meet the wholesale trucks in Burley, or sometimes in Burley.

He hauled his own supplies in a second-hand ambulance nicknamed the "Gray Ghost," and during that time the vehicle was a familiar sight to many persons in Cassia and Minidoka counties.

After the completion of a gravel road, and later a paved one, the delivery trucks made deliveries at the store.

The couple reported the busiest time of the year was May through November, when the Mexican farm workers came to the area.

The Wilson Labor camp is located one-half mile from the store and Mrs. Yelton, who is able to speak and write Spanish, was asked on many occasions to help the Mexican people with their business transactions and been converted into an office for even wrote letters for them.

The Yeltons can remember many experiences due to road conditions and the fact that they were the first in the area to have a telephone.

They both remember distinctly one unusual experience. An Indian couple stopped at the gas pumps in front of the store. The Indian man came into the store, asking for gasoline to take his wife to a hospital, explaining that they had no money, but were in a hurry.

Mrs. Yelton went to the pumps to fill the tank, then came running back into the store, yelling, "Alert the hospital, quick, she just now had the baby!"

Besides the general store at Norland, there is now a cafe, a barbershop and a Baptist church. A Pentecostal church was located there until recently and it has

W. Bradford Began First Thanksgiving

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

AP Staff Writer
Posterity has dealt indifferently with William Bradford, the Pilgrim governor who proclaimed the first Thanksgiving day back in 1621.

By all rights of character and accomplishment of wisdom and courage, of over-all inspired leadership, Bradford should be revered as a great American, a figure on a par with Washington and Lincoln in our national gallery of heroes.

But somehow, dimly viewed through the mists of history, his image has been obscured by the fame of Miles Standish, John Alden and Priscilla Mullin, whom Longfellow rhymed in his fanciful recreation of the Plymouth story, or else he has been confused with the stern, witch-hunting Puritan governors of the neighboring Massachusetts Bay colony.

Bradford certainly loomed larger in the life of Plymouth than Standish, who was his close friend and military adviser for many years, and John Alden and Priscilla Mullin, whom he joined together in a civil marriage ceremony shortly after becoming governor. And he never did burn a witch, although he once had the unhappy duty of sentencing John Billington, a fellow passenger on the Mayflower, to be hanged for murder.

Only 31 at the time of his election, a silk weaver by trade and a Pilgrim by rigid choice of conscience, Bradford was to govern Plymouth for 30 of the next 35 years, and to put indelibly the stamp of his remarkable character on the new world's first successful experiment in democracy.

It was he who molded Plymouth into what it was to become, a shining symbol of harmonious self-government, of a hard-working, God-fearing free society ruled by love and laws, at peace with its neighbors but ever ready to defend itself in case of attack, a symbol that was to have an effect far beyond the boundaries and far beyond the life span of tiny colony.

FUTURE plans for the Yeltons are indefinite. They want to rest and travel and enjoy their five grandchildren. Yelton noted he cannot remember having more than three days at a time away from the store. The store had remained open seven days a week until the past two years, when they began closing on Sunday.

When asked if he might possibly go back into business, he said that after 37 years in the grocery business he felt he wanted to do some of the things that had been put aside, and the first item would be some traveling they had planned.

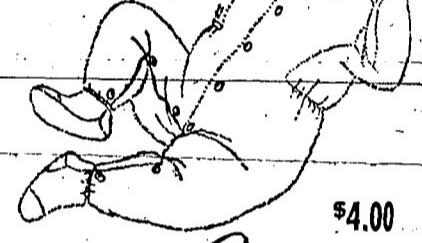

Low - born and uneducated, Bradford had in him the makings of the first authentic American: The pioneer, the rebel, the independent thinker, the self-made man. Other New England colonies were run by university men. Virginia's governors came from the royal court. But Bradford was home-spun and self-taught; nei-

Buhl Woman Takes 6 Months to Make Woodland Scene From Broken Glass

BUHL, Nov. 23 — Mrs. Walter Caldwell used a hammer to break up bottles and got away with it. The result of her efforts is being displayed at the Club Royal in downtown Buhl. The finished product is a picture depicting a woodland scene complete with a great elk. All colors of such a scene are fully reproduced in the "painting," which measures 24 by 28 inches.

Glass for the picture took more than two years to collect and Mrs. Caldwell is the first to admit she visited "practically every junk heap in the country, and also old forgotten 'ghost communities,' in her quest for colorful glass.

She also admits she is a rock-hound and this fact, together with her many travels into remote areas, gave her the idea for the special picture.

"I couldn't see throwing all that beautiful glass away," she

BEAUTIFUL SPRINGS, such as this one at Thousand Springs, have been running for years. The water comes from a great underground water source on the north side of the river. This source is said to be 12,000 square miles in size. Utilization of water from such springs for farming, through pumps, or by directing it back into the underground source, is a probability now that the state is aroused with the threat of losing water to California. It is estimated that springs on the north side of the river, mostly below Shoshone falls to a point near Bliss, dump about 4,700,000 acre feet of water a year into the Snake. Utilization of this great potential in the Gem state is expected to be an important study topic. (Times-News photo)

Pickles Passe

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23
UPI — Pickles are passe for pregnancy, a noted anthropologist reports.

Speaking before a meeting of the American Anthropological Association—which is holding its 62nd annual conference in San Francisco—Dr. Steven Polgar of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America said that in a study he conducted in the bay area into the eating habits of pregnant women only nine per cent named pickles as their favorite food.

Polgar told the group that 30 per cent of the women interviewed named fruit juices as their most popular food while expecting. Meat and fish polled a close second place.

He said on a national level

pickles ranked in fifth place

as the food most craved by pregnant women.

Smylie Urges Ocean Pipe For Water

BOISE Nov. 23 (UPI)—A proposal that California could submerge the Columbia river in the Pacific ocean to carry water from the mouth of the Columbia river near Astoria, southward—has been advocated by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

He said it would be cheaper than the Los Angeles proposal of a 30-mile aqueduct and pumping system to carry water from the Snake river in Idaho to Lake Mead on the Colorado river.

"The Northwest would have used and reused the water," said Smylie. "It would be surplus. Certainly nobody would be a dog in the manger enough to complain about it being used elsewhere."

"It is possible to tunnel under the English channel, certainly you can construct a submerged aqueduct," said Smylie. "There would be no worry about acquiring right of way. Then if there is surplus water in the Columbia I'm sure they're getting the surplus and nothing else."

Smylie restated his suggestion Idaho go to work to harness the water that now flows down the Snake to the Columbia with financed reclamation projects.

The governor also said that study of the Los Angeles plan to divert water from the Snake river near Twin Falls shows data it was made available from the department of the interior. "The study shows evidence of engineering studies and data that could be procured no place else," said Smylie, adding:

"Politics would indicate the desirability of achieving the solution of the Colorado river conundrum from some other alternative than the southwest water plan."

"It is an alternative to a head-on collision between Arizona and California," he said.

Los Angeles favors the Snake river diversion as an alternative transfer of water from northern to southern California.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty has asked Interior Secretary Stewart Udall to study the plan but reclamation officials were told the department will ignore it.

Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, state president pro-temp, took issue with the proposal, saying it is contrary to California's policy on the tidelands off its shores.

He said California insisted on supremacy of the state rather than the federal government over the tidelands, but now would like to see the federal government take Idaho water.

"We're not interested in giving away our water," said Murphy, "but perhaps some trading of resources would be possible, a barrel of water for a barrel

Republicans For Primaries, Governor Says

BOISE Nov. 23 (UPI)—Republican chief executives are waiting for appointment of the state senate on a population basis would lead to domination of the legislature by the southern counties, says State Sen. Cy Chase, D., Benewah.

Chase said in a statement that any changes in senate alignment would be detrimental to the less populous counties and would enable the southern majority to force legislation on the northern minority.

This minority must be protected, he said. "The constitution provides that one senator shall be elected in each county and it must remain so in the interest of the minority."

BILL Provides For North Idaho Park

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UPI)—

Establishment of a small national park embracing historical sites scattered throughout northern

Idaho is provided for in a bill

before the U. S. senate.

The measure was introduced

Thursday by Sen. Frank Church,

D., Idaho, on behalf of himself and

Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Idaho. Both

senators said they hoped for action on the bill early next year.

In introducing the bill, Church said it does not call for creation of a large national park, but for the designation and appropriate development of the scattered historically significant sites in northcentral

Idaho.

"Only a small amount of land would be required for administrative use and site preservation," he said.

Church reviewed the history of the north central area from the time of the explorers Lewis and Clark through the time of the panel in Boise.

State Rep. Herman J. McDevitt,

Pocatello attorney who filed

the suit on behalf of two private citizens, has contended that a constitutional provision allowing each county one senator regardless of population deprives more populous counties of equal representation.

North Idaho Log Haulers' Fines Heavy

BOISE, Nov. 23 (AP) — The department of law enforcement has assessed against North Idaho logging truck operators a fine of $100 per load for transporting loads over the legal maximum of 79,000 pounds have averaged less than a half cent a pound.

Recent records at the department's Boise office show the fines fine assessed. In the last two months was $114 for a 21,000-pound overload and the average fine for the 175 citations was $41. The smallest was $1 for a 1,400-pound overload. The figures were released following assertions by north Idaho operators that they have been harassed" by state police. "Sen. Sam Dee, D., Idaho, supported the truckers and said in statement Thursday that fines had run as high as $175 and "They have been mailing our letters right and left," said Dee, "and there are questions whether they are harassing us."

E. R. Hopper, law enforcement commissioner, said the operators have a chance to present their grievances at a meeting scheduled for Dec. 10 at Kooskia. But he denied there has been harassment.

He suggested the operators

WHO EARNS WHAT WHERE IN THE U.S.A.

(Per Capita Income by Regions, 1947-62)

PATTERNS OF EMPLOYMENT—More Americans are earning—on the average—more money, no matter what section of the nation is examined. Newsmap, comparing per capita income in 1947 with income in 1962, reveals that the far western states led in both years. Actually, however, the West's lead over the rest of the nation has declined slightly; per capita income is now more evenly distributed, partly because of the migration of many industries. Data from U.S. Dept. of Labor.

weren't used to enforcement of portable scale in the entire area, the law, which has been stepped up since a weighing station was added at Kooskia. He said before that there was only a single E. Drevlow to be present.

Dee said he will attend the Kooskia meeting and had invited several other north Idaho legislators and Lieut. Gov. William E. Drevlow to be present.

BURLEY, Nov. 23—The Gold Chinchilla club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Burley city hall to discuss plans for a chin-chilla show.

New First Lady Is Grown-up "Country Girl"

By United Press International
Her given name was Claudia, but she was nicknamed Lady Bird.

Lyndon B. Johnson completed the "LBJ" brand when they were married after a business-like, whirlwind courtship.

Claudia Alta Taylor, Johnson's wife, has been busy, unpredictable and exciting ever since.

The new first lady is a country girl just as her husband is a country boy.

She was born at Karnack, in deep east Texas (population 100). A Negro nurse said she was as pretty as "lady bird," and the nickname stuck.

Mrs. Johnson knew what it was, paying off before she met Johnson.

While Johnson became the protege of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs.

Johnson started taking charge of businesses that said:

"Thomas Jefferson Taylor,

radio station in 1943, helped him in his own around the country,

touring economically depressed areas and sparking the woman's contingent of the Democratic party at meetings and receptions.

Shortly after the inauguration

in 1961, the Johnsons moved into an elegant Washington home

formerly owned by hostess Pearl

Mesta. They have entertained

lavishly at the house with the big swimming pool and taken a lot of the social load off the Kelloggs in the past three years.

Mrs. Johnson, who has a slim

manner, often has substituted at the White House for Mrs. Kennedy at state dinners, luncheons and receptions.

She is a doting mother and is always happy when she has her

two daughters, Lynda Bird, 10,

and Lucy, 8, with her.

Lynda Bird is engaged to a Navy

officer and attends the University of Texas at Austin. Lucy

James was in Washington when

her father was sworn in as President of the United States.

Heavy Export of Beans Expected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, said today Idaho bean producers should benefit from heavy exports during the 1963-64 marketing year.

Drought and other problems have cut estimated European bean production in the larger producing countries to 20 percent below normal and 30 percent below 1961, said Church.

Nine countries estimate production of 12.7 million bags, compared to an average of 14.6 million.

Four years before Johnson was introduced to Johnson, then secretary to U.S. Rep. Richard M. Kleberg, 87 votes in 1948, their first daughter was born. She was named Lynda Bird Johnson in keeping with the "LBJ" brand. Lucy Barnes Johnson was born in 1957, a year before her father started this spectacular rise to becoming the youngest senator majority leader in Democratic party history.

Lady Bird Johnson has been constantly at the side of the run for congress from Texas

Texas task master. She once was forced to learn shorthand so she could fill in as an emergency secretary on his staff.

She campaigned with him for the Democratic presidential nomination. And with him, gra-duously accepted defeat, the second place on the party's ticket, and eventually the title of "second lady of the land."

Today she flew back to Washington with Johnson to become the first lady.

With a Texas drawl and an outgoing "Y'all come" personality, she has been making speeches on her own around the country, touring economically depressed areas and sparking the woman's contingent of the Democratic party at meetings and receptions.

Shortly after the inauguration in 1961, the Johnsons moved into an elegant Washington home formerly owned by hostess Pearl

Mesta. They have entertained

lavishly at the house with the big swimming pool and taken a lot of the social load off the Kelloggs in the past three years.

Mrs. Johnson, who has a slim

manner, often has substituted at

the White House for Mrs. Kennedy at state dinners, luncheons

and receptions.

She is a doting mother and is always happy when she has her

two daughters, Lynda Bird, 10,

and Lucy, 8, with her.

Lynda Bird is engaged to a Navy

officer and attends the University of Texas at Austin. Lucy

James was in Washington when

her father was sworn in as President of the United States.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM at the O'Leary Junior high school is being checked by E. R. Budge, southern Idaho serviceman for Notifier Automatic Detection Alarm Company, to try to locate activated alarm in building. ## Heater Gets too Hot; Alarm System Shows It's Effective

The Notifier automatic detection alarm system which is installed in the Twin Falls schools and industry buildings proved Monday that it is at work at all times when a heater in the O'Leary junior high school got too hot and set the alarm system off.

E. R. Budge, southern Idaho serviceman for the Notifier automatic detection alarm company, said the alarms are set to react if the areas around the detectors, which are scattered all over the building, reach a temperature of over 135 degrees. He also said the alarms would go off if the tem-

Bagdad Calm After Trouble

BAGDAD, Iraq, Nov. 23 (UPI)—Iraq's new government worked today to restore normal conditions to the capital in the aftermath of two spates of fighting in less than two weeks.

Bagdad was calm today, with the curfew reduced to only the night hours and bus and bicycle traffic permitted. Private cars and trucks were still banned from the streets, however, and palace guards were startled yesterday to see a crowd of newsmen cycle through the gates in an unsuccessful attempt to get an interview with President Abd al-Salam Aref.

mylie Gives Program for Better Water

Oct. 23 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smiley outlined today a point program for improvement of the quality of Idaho water, but said it could be helped by better cooperation from federal agencies.

The governor made public a statement prepared for a hearing today in Seattle, Wash., by a congressional subcommittee concerned with natural resources power.

Idaho is in a rather unique position of being both helped and hindered in its pollution control policies by the federal government, Smiley's statement said.

It is helped by the grant-in-program which has been an aid to sewage treatment

construction and is hindered by activities of certain regulatory agencies.

Smiley said that polio of the reclamation and the state energy commission permit

large waste waters directly underground water channels.

Underground water in Idaho

is apparently of high quality and is a valuable asset to state, but the use of underground disposal by federal agencies creates a serious handicap

to state programs."

Smiley said waste treatment facil-

ties at some federal installations are poorly designed or not operated. Among these are facilities at the Fort Hall Indian Agency, the Mountain Home

air force base and the radar station near Cottonwood."

Smiley-reviewed steps taken by the state since 1955, when the state board of health was created.

Pollution control regulations were developed, beginning in 1959.

Smiley listed these "four major points" for future action:

Vigorously continue the program requiring all communities

industries to provide adequate treatment of waste flow

s—discharge to receiving streams.

Maintain surveillance of all waste treatment plants—both in-ustrial and domestic—in order to insure good operation of these plants.

Continue to work with industry to evaluate feasible treatment-processes, and assist in determining how waste loads can be reduced by in-plant changes.

Continue stream studies to determine the effect of waste

loads in order to protect downstream use of water."

RESEARCH TRAILS—Billions of federal dollars are being spent on scientific research every year. Although defense is still largest in terms of actual dollars, space research has expanded explosively since 1957—increasing at an annual rate of 85 per cent. Medical research continues to grow about 25 percent annually. Since 1947, total federal expenditures on research of all kinds have increased by 21 per cent each year. ## Tax Increase Is Explained By Official

1923 1933 1943 1953 1962

Due to the increase in Twin Falls county tax levies in 1963, there will be an increase in real estate and property taxes, announces Clifford Thompson, county assessor.

Thompson stated, for example, that in 1962, for each $100 assessed valuation, the city of Twin Falls had a total tax charge of $12,905, and in 1963 the total tax charge for the same valuation was $13,851.

He pointed out that under the highway district the tax levies for 1962 for each $100 of assessed valuation were only 65 cents, but in 1963 for the same valuation, the highway district for the same valuation the highway district for Twin Falls had a $1 tax levy.

He also said this tax increase has nothing to do with the revaluation program. This will come into effect in 1965.

Thompson said the real estate taxes in Twin Falls, Buhl, Pion, Kimberly, Hansen, Murtough, Castleford and Hollister will rise due to added levies in 1963, but the same taxes for Kimberly would drop a little.

Both the real estate and property tax notices were being sent out Friday.

treasurer and tax collector, announced that the real estate notices would be printed on a different receipt this year. She pointed out that if any person had trouble reading the receipt, the county treasurer office would be happy to help them.

History Backed up Gloomy Prediction About Death

Said Richard Lord, a high school teacher here, to John B. Swisher, member of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign committee in Twin Falls during the early autumn of 1960:

"Don't work for a Democratic president so hard. If Kennedy's elected, he's going to die in office."

And he quoted the following history to back his contention that ever since William Henry Harrison, who was elected in 1840, the president elected each succeeding 20 years had died in office:

Harrison, elected 1840, died 1841.

Abraham Lincoln, elected 1860, assassinated 1865.

James A. Garfield, elected 1880, assassinated 1881.

William McKinley, elected 1900, assassinated 1901.

Warren Harding, elected 1920, died 1923.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, elected 1940, died 1945.

John F. Kennedy, elected 1960, assassinated 1963.

It is an extraordinary coincidence that Lincoln, elected in 1860, and Kennedy, elected in 1960, both were succeeded by vice presidents named Johnson.

turned home a 5:30 p.m. four clothes, closets were open and clothes were scattered all over.
